

HOLOCAUST EDUCATION IN TIMES OF UNCERTAINTY

A Series of Live Interviews with Impactful and Innovative Leaders in the Field

MODERATED BY

Shay Pilnik, PhD

Founding Director, The Emil A. and Jenny Fish Center for Holocaust & Genocide Studies, Yeshiva University

For those who teach the subject and for those who deeply care about Holocaust Remembrance and Education, join us for a series of conversations about this important, fascinating and rapidly growing field of study, its future and relevance to the present moment at times of civil unrest, social tensions and uncertainty.

Tune in live: bit.ly/31oFbpr

TUESDAY, JULY 7
3 P.M. E.T.

DR. DAN HAUMSCHILD

Making the Holocaust Relevant: Challenges and Perspectives from the Midwest

Director of Education, Nathan and Esther Pelz Holocaust Education Resource Center, Milwaukee, WI

THURSDAY, JULY 9
3 P.M. E.T.

KELLEY SZANY

Do We Need Another Mandate? The Present and Future of Holocaust Education in the United States

Vice President of Education and Exhibitions, Illinois Holocaust Museum and Education Center, Skokie, IL

TUESDAY, JULY 14
3 P.M. E.T.

DR. PAUL RADENSKY

At the End of the Day, What Do Our Students Need to Know about the Holocaust?

Assistant Director of Education, Museum for Jewish Heritage, New York City

THURSDAY, JULY 16
3 P.M. E.T.

ILANA CONE-KENNEDY

Everyday Objects: Using artifacts to teach about the Holocaust

Director of Education, Holocaust Center for Humanity, Seattle, WA

TUESDAY, JULY 21
3 P.M. E.T.

URSULA SZCZEPINSKA

"Who Knows If We'll All Get Together Again" – The Significance of Using Primary Sources in Teaching Holocaust History.

Director of Education & Research, The Florida Holocaust Museum, St. Petersburg, FL