

2027 Holocaust Writing & Art Contest Guidelines

Eligible Participants: 7-12th grade Wisconsin students (public, private, or homeschool)

Submission Deadline: Friday, March 26, 2027, at 11:59pm CST

Prompt: After surviving the Holocaust, many survivors rebuilt their lives with remarkable resilience. They became artists, scientists, educators, inventors, activists, business and government leaders, and community members whose work changed the world.

Choose one Holocaust survivor and explore how they made a meaningful contribution to society after the Holocaust. Then create an original piece of writing or artwork that reflects their journey, achievements, and lasting impact. Consider how their experiences shaped their life and the legacy they left for future generations.

Format: Original writing or art entry may be one of the following:

- Essay (not to exceed 3 pages, single space – Works Cited pages do NOT count in the page count)
- Poetry (single poem, not to exceed 3 pages, single space)
- Short story (not to exceed 3 pages, single space)
- Film/video (maximum length: 5 minutes)
- Visual art (painting, drawing, collage, digital art, etc.)
- Sculpture
- Comic Book
- Podcast/social media (maximum length: 5 minutes)

All works must be submitted digitally. All entries are limited to a single object (sculpture entries may include up to four images from different angles). Students may only submit one total entry.

Artist's Statement: All entries (writing & art) must include an artist's statement, 50-200 words, in which you identify your inspiration for the piece and the takeaway you would like the audience to have. Entries will not be judged without this statement. Students should not include their name or any personal information in this statement.

Judging Criteria: Each entry will be judged with the following criteria in mind and using the rubrics on the site:

- Offers a clear lesson from the Holocaust and connects it to present day
- Presents accurate historical facts
- Reflects artistry and skill
- Demonstrates originality and creative representation of the theme
- Entries that are not on topic will not be scored

All winners will be featured on the website of the Nathan and Esther Pelz Holocaust Education Resource Center and in the Milwaukee Jewish Chronicle.
